The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, FEBRUARY 4TH, 1914.

In spite of official discouragement, the British Committee which is advocating the country's participation in the Panama-Pacific Exhibition is persevering in its efforts, and we are told by The Times that leading firms from all parts of the United Kingdom continue to urge reconsideration of the Government's refusal, even at the last moment, and reiterate their determination to exhibit, despite the possible handicap of having no representation on the International Jury and no British headquarters. If substantial evidence is furnished of a desire on the part of any considerable number of important British firms to participate in the Exhibition, the Government is hardly likely to be averse to reconsidering their decision. The grounds on which the British Government decided against national official participation in the Exhibition were concisely stated by Sir Edward Grey in the House of Commons. "His Majesty's Government," he said, "have come to the conclusion that they would not in present circumstances be justified in asking the country to incur the heavy expenditure which they find would be necessary in order to participate in the Exhibition at San Francisco on behalf of the United Kingdom. The decision was based on the estimate that an adequate participation in the exhibition would require an expenditure which Parliament must be asked to vote of over a quarter of a million, and that this would be quite out of proportion to any commercial advantages that are likely to result." Sir Edward added that the Government had done nothing to discourage the official participation of British self-governing Dominions, and that it would not think of doing anything to discourage the participation of private individuals. In a section of the American Press the decision was attributed to pique because of the attitude of President Taft and Congress towards the British protest against the exemption of American vessels using the Panama Canal from payment of tolls. There certainly was nothing to support this allegation in the attitude of the Government or the British Press towards the subject, and, if British firms had been convinced that there were commercial advantages to be gained which would have made participation in the Exhibition worth while, it is extremely unlikely that consideration of the attitude of Congress on the Panama Canal tolls question would have suppressed their desire to participate or restrained them from taking the necessary steps to persuade the Government to incur the expenditure which national official representation would involve. But it is only in the last few months that any evidence whatever has been given of a desire on the part of British manufacturers to participate, but when the Government was approached again in December, on the question of the official representation of the country, the Prime Minister announced that the Cabinet, after careful consideration of the various points advanced by the Committee, were not able to modify its previous decision. Mr. Asquith, therefore, felt that no good object would be served by his receiving a deputation on the subject. The Committee, however, refuse to regard this as the last word on the subject. Further efforts are being made to persuade the Government to reverse or substantially modify its policy. Influential support is being given to the Committee by other organisations to this end, and a Parliamentary section is being formed to deal with the matter when the House of Commons reassembles. The Committee says it has been able to make favourable arrangements as regards the shipping of exhibits to San Francisco which would greatly reduce the expenses both of the Government and of the manufacturer, and the further suggestion has been made that all British exhibits at the San Francisco Exposition, instead of being returned direct to England, should be shown at the Winnipeg and Toronto exhibitions in 1916. It is stated that this proposal could probably be executed free of all expense to the British Government and the individual exhibitor, and that it would cause great gratification throughout Canada. Whether, in view of the addition of seven million pounds sterling to the Naval Estimates in the coming year, the Committee will be able to persuade any considerable body of members of the House of Commons that the commercial advantages likely to accrue to the nation from official participation in the Exhibition would warrant a Parliamentary vote of a quarter of a million remains to be seen. Unless there are indications that the House generally supports the demand for participation, the Government is hardly likely to reverse a decision which it has already reconsidered and confirmed.

Mr. A. S. P. White-Cooper, a well-known Shanghai lawyer, is to appear in a case to be heard before the Hongkong Court of Appeal.

A fresh census is to be taken at Wuchang, and in future births, marriages and deaths are all to be registered at the police office on penalty of a fine.

A petition has been filed in the Japanese House of Representatives from Mrs. Kajiko Yajima, President of the Japan Christian Women's Temperance Union, and 624 others, asking the House to amend the Criminal Law so as to make the misconduct of a husband as punishable as that of a wife.

Two Sikhs were charged at the Magistracy yesterday with unlawfully pretending to tell fortunes, and, "with subtle craft and palmistry," endeavouring to impose on John J. Lysaght. Defendants, who were represented by Mr. Leo d'Almeida and Mr. J. H. Gardiner, were remanded on $100 bail.

It has been definitely decided that the railway from the main line of the Siberian Railway to Kiakhta, near the Mongolian frontier, is to be commenced next spring. The work of doubling the track of the Trans-Baikal Railway is not yet completed. The permanent way is finished and rails laid wherever no difficulties had to be met with, but difficult cuttings and embankments are not finished, nor are many of the bridges. The old post-horse communication between Verkhne-Udinsk and Kiakhta is now replaced by motors and motor buses but break-downs cause the change to be not over popular.

On account of the unusual prolongation of the Chung San Nam extradition case, the Jubilee Road murder trial, which was to have commenced on 2nd February, has been further postponed, being put down for hearing on 23rd February. The extradition case has also resulted in the accumulation of over fifty Summary cases, which have been in abeyance for several weeks.

A stained-glass window has been placed in Holybourne Parish Church in memory of the late Mr. Edward Francis Reginald Pole, son of Major and Mrs. Reginald Pole, of Holybourne, and grandson of the late Sir Peter Pole, Bt., of Wolverton Park, Hampshire, who died at Canton, China, in October, 1909. The dedication service was performed by the Rev. S. Priestley, headmaster of Farnham Grammar School, of which the deceased was a pupil.

PIRACY IN CHINESE WATERS.

Information has come to hand that the licensed fishing junk No. 993 H.O., of 352 piculs capacity, was attacked by pirates at about 11 p.m. on the 29th ult., while anchored off Ki O, in the Heung-shan district. The junk was on a voyage from Tam Chau to Tai O in the Chinese territory. A paddle boat manned by eight men, who were armed with rifles, boarded the junk, terrorised the crew, and stole $80 in money, clothing to the value of $40, four muskets, and powder and shot.

"A LITTLE MONEY."

WELL-KNOWN CHARACTER AT THE MAGISTRACY.

Once again John Allen, a well-known "character," paid a visit to the Magistracy yesterday, once again was he charged with being a vagrant, and yet again admitted he had no work and was committed to the house of detention. He told the Magistrate that he would get some work, "perhaps," in two or three days, as Mr. Graham, of Kowloon Dock, had promised to give him something to do.

The Magistrate (Mr. F. A. Hazeland)

—What sort of work?

Defendant—Oh, engineering.

His Worship—I don't think you can do any work.

Defendant—I have got a little money.

Inspector P. O'Sullivan—Yes, 25 cents.

Your Worship. (Laughter.)

His Worship—Twenty-five cents won't carry him far.

Defendant—No, I've got some money in a bank at Amoy.

His Worship—Has he ever been to the house of detention before?

Inspector O'Sullivan—Several times, your Worship.

Defendant intimated that he had only had the "honour" once.

His Worship—I think you had better go back there.

RECKLESS MOTOR-DRIVING IN WANCHAI.

Inspector McHardy brought three summonses against Chinese motor-drivers at the Magistracy yesterday, before Mr. Hazeland.

The driver of Exile Garage car No. 28 was charged with driving during prohibited hours on the Praya East, and with failing to stop when called upon. The police alleged the time to be 4.30 a.m., but defendant asserted that it was an hour later, and the case was adjourned for him to call Mr. Soares, the occupant of the car at the time.

The driver of the Eastern Motor Co.'s car No. 44, and the driver of car No. 9 were charged with reckless driving on the 27th ult., on the Wong-nei-cheong Road.

Inspector McHardy told his Worship that the cars were racing, causing a danger to the public. Both cars were full of Chinese, and as one passed the other the occupants raised their hats and waved them in the air. He would ask for a heavy penalty in both cases.

Both men were fined $50, or two months' hard labour in default.

NEW P. AND O. LINER.

The steamship Khiva, the first of four steamers building by Messrs. Cammell, Laird & Co., at Birkenhead, for the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Eastern trade, left the Mersey on 6th ult. for Antwerp, after being officially taken over by the owners' representatives. Owing to a heavy gale it was decided to dispense with the usual trial trip, especially as the extensive preliminary trials had been so eminently successful, both as regards speed and sea-going qualities. The Khiva is 480 ft. long, with a beam of 55 ft., and a gross tonnage of about 9,000 tons. Ample lifeboats are provided for a full complement of passengers and crew. The Khiva represents the most recent development in the P. and O. Company's requirements for their intermediate passenger vessels. Mr. G. J. Carter, managing director of Cammell, Laird & Co., presiding at the luncheon, stated that the vessel had been delivered some months before her contract date, and he expected the case would be the same in regard to the other vessels they had on the stocks. The Khiva was due to leave Antwerp on 17th ult., and London on 24th with passengers and cargo for China and Japan.

Another rumour says that Hsiung Hsi-ling will remain if this proposition is accepted, but that he would, in any event, retire from the post of Finance Minister.

On the other hand, rumours are rife that either Tuan Chi-jui or Hsueh Chang or Chao Ping-chuen (who has unexpectedly arrived in Peking) will be appointed Deputy Premier.

CORRESPONDENCE.

GREAT BRITAIN'S COMMERCIAL POLICY IN CHINA.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—For the last two years, whenever any British syndicate or group approached the Legation or Consulates, in order to obtain official backing, for the purpose of concluding loans or contracts with either Provincial or Central Governments, their representatives were politely told that "Great Britain did not approve of financial accommodation being granted through any but the Five-Power Group."

Hence we find to-day the extraordinary state of affairs that allows Japanese and other financial groups the power of borrowing money at low rates of interest from the London banks, in order to use it to lend to the provinces of China at high rates and on difficult terms, using the power that the money gives to force on Provinces indifferent machinery and manufactured goods—where we are not allowed to trade.

This our Minister in Peking, and our Foreign Secretary in London, gravely informs us is done for China's well-being, in order to consolidate the power of Peking, and to put off the evil day of China's insolvency as long as possible. To the ordinary mortal, whose logic is not of that high order used exclusively in His Majesty's Legation and Foreign Office, it would seem that if Great Britain really wished the best possible financial and general well-being for China, she would see the wisdom of allowing the capital of her country being used direct to give China the machinery, organization funds, etc., she needs, instead of being used by devious and intricate by-paths at a rate of interest often out of all proportion to the original rate.

Whenever China requires money either for re-organization or other purposes, the bulk of that money comes from either Paris or London. Now in order to maintain the status quo in Northern Europe, our statesmen have contracted an agreement with France, which agreement is presumably sound statesmanship and of benefit to both countries. If the agreement were extended so that it would cover China as well as the limited area in Northern Europe, it could not fail to be of great benefit to the two Powers involved, provided that Great Britain would co-ordinate her banking policy to her foreign and commercial policy, and so place her financial power in the world on a parity with that of her ally, when the combined action of the two could force China into those paths of financial rectitude that no other power on earth can compass.

There are many reasons why, in the writer's opinion, the alliance would be successful.—First, France is the only country except ourselves that has very considerable colonies in Asia. Secondly, France does not seriously compete against us in any import trade into China, and in exports silk alone is of any importance, and this trade is essentially a French one. Thirdly, both nations have long frontiers on Western China, and both nations maintain considerable garrisons on their respective frontiers.

(I am aware that the Foreign Office policy has been modified of late regarding loans to Provinces, but even to-day British subjects are not on a parity with other European subjects in regard to the Consular help afforded them in carrying such business through to a successful termination.)

Joint action on the part of the two Powers could so control the foreign financial relations of China that it would be impossible for her to involve herself in the machinations of those Powers who seek to use French and British capital in order to monopolise the trade by unfair methods, it would make impossible the action of present groups to press unfair contracts on China, in lieu of instant payment of money owing, whilst it would not in any way interfere with legitimate trading nor infringe the sovereign rights of the Republic.

Provincial authorities could be prevented from contracting loans with those parties who would pay the most cumshaw, the general resources of China could be developed along sound financial lines, and both British and French manufacturing houses would benefit, as they cannot do to-day owing to unfair competition, whilst the solvency of the country could be strengthened in a way impossible by any other methods.

Already the French Government has seen the wisdom of taking steps that will render it difficult for foreign financial houses to borrow money from French banks, when, in the opinion of the Government, the money is required for purposes contrary to French interests; and if this is necessary to France with her interests, it is certainly necessary for us with our wider interests.—I am, yours faithfully,

ARTHUR T. MOORE BENNETT.

Yunnanfu, January 24th.

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

The directors recommend the transfer of $200,000 from the profit and loss account to credit of the silver reserve fund, which fund will then stand at $17,650,000.

To effect these adjustments and maintain the fund at $1,900,000, sterling stocks to the face value of $25,000 costing $24,358.25, 8d. were purchased and added to "other sterling securities," bringing the amount under that heading to $431,600 written down to $421,100. This expenditure was met out of the earnings of the half-year.

THE TRADE OF THE PHILIPPINES.

HEAVY DECLINE IN BOTH IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

During the calendar year of 1913 the total value of imports into all ports of the Philippines Islands, states the Manila Observer, fell off the appalling amount of nearly 17 million pesos—P16,710,230, to be correct, according to statements issued last week by the Insular Collector of Customs. These figures are taken in comparison to the total value of imports of the previous calendar year, 1912.

In the case of exports the figures spell the same story, the total falling off being P13,099,080. Last year's value of total exports from all ports was $47,772,935.

The calendar year previous it was $54,618,980. The heaviest loss was in copra. In 1912 there was P9,275,484 more copra exported than last year. Hemp fell down 2 million pesos. Sugar and "other tobacco" fell off about 3 million pesos each. Exportation of cigars was about the same.

The falling off of exports in bulk was even more than the figures indicate, for the average prices obtained last year were far better than those obtained in 1912. Copra brought $11,610 last year. The year previous the price was $9.93 per 100 kilos. In the case of hemp it was the same: last year hemp brought $17.627 per 100 kilos, while the previous year the average price was only $13.609. There was a slight falling off in the average price of cigars and other tobaccos. The average price of coconut oil increased over 300 per cent. last year. Sugar remained about the same.

Statements of the exports and imports for the last six months of the calendar year of 1913 naturally tell the same story as the figures for the entire year. The collector of customs also issued figures yesterday for the month of December.

The falling off in exports as compared with December, 1912, amounted to P2,089,810. The only increase is noted in imports for December, all ports, the increase amounting to P198,370.

The tremendous falling off in exports, which also affected the imports, is claimed to have been caused by the destruction of crops three years ago by the prolonged drought throughout the Islands and the destructive typhoon of 1912.

SUPREME COURT.

Tuesday, 3rd February.

IN APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

BEFORE THE CHIEF JUSTICE, SIR WM. REES DAVIES, K.C., AND MR. H. H. J. GOMPERTZ (PUISE JUDGE).

"IMAGINARY JURY: IMAGINARY FINDINGS."

When the motion in connection with the Chung Sau Nam case was resumed yesterday, Sir Francis Pigott referred to the Magistrate's finding and submitted at once that it was wrong from the point of view of completeness. He subsequently said of the Magistrate:—"He has gone wrong on procedure, and he has also gone wrong in law; that is as clear as can be."

As a corollary to that, he has confused the question of law with the question of fact. He has not complied with what are the express instructions in the quoted authority. The substitution of an imaginary jury by him is not in compliance with the instructions. Throughout he has put up an imaginary jury instead of himself, and he has put the imaginary findings of that imaginary jury in the most uncertain way; "the jury may find," or "might be inclined to the view," or "probably would."

Simply locking at it from that point of view, it is not a positive finding which, I maintain, is essential to extradition proceedings. It is not a sincere finding. There is the substitution of the imaginary jury with an uncertain verdict, and then he says, "I can hold there is a strong and probable presumption of guilt."

Well, that is inconsistent and is bad law. And not speaking in an offensive way, but putting it in the most legal way, he seems to have said, "If I am obliged to say strong and probable presumption of guilt, I might as well say so."

The judgment was contrary to law... and I say this is not English Law, and not the procedure followed in any English Criminal Court. I am fully convinced of this, that there has been a travesty of justice, and I will say that, from beginning to end, these are the most extraordinary proceedings that have ever happened in any criminal case."

Subsequently Sir Francis said that the order was given to Chunr Sau Nam by Chan Kwong-ming, whereas the Crown had based their charge in such a way that they assumed the order was given by the Government. That was another fact why the charge could not stand.

Touching once more upon the Magistrate's judgment, Sir Francis caused some amusement by remarking,—"My learned friend described a certain passage in that judgment as being worthy of Hallam. I hope he will excuse me when I say that it is worthy of Macaulay in his most inaccurate moments. He was, you know, famous for his inaccuracies."

The Puisse Judge—Not inaccuracies; bias. (Laughter.)

Sir Francis—Well, that bias led him to make certain grave inaccuracies—I mean those expressions of bias. (Laughter.)

Counsel briefly referred to Common Law and concluded his reply by saying that the reasons which he had given were good reasons why the prisoner should be discharged.

It was intimated to Counsel for the Crown by the Chief Justice that they should be prepared, if it was desired, to tender an expert witness in regard to Chinese Law in consequence of the likelihood of other proceedings.

The hearing of the motion then closed, it having occupied close upon three weeks.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE.

STAFF CHANGES ANNOUNCED.

Immediately after roll call yesterday, the Warden (Archdeacon E. J. Barnett), in addressing the students, said he had an important announcement to make with reference to St. Stephen's College. Some of them remembered that eleven years ago, before the present building in which they were assembled had been erected, the College was started with six scholars, one of whom (Mr. Ts'o, the Bursar) was present that morning. The teaching staff was then naturally limited, consisting of himself and Mr. A. Mackenzie. Shortly after, Mr. Ng Tin Po was added.

Those first six students of the College had now gone out into the world and all were holding honourable positions. Since that time he had seen some hundreds of scholars go out from the College. Some of them had gone into business, whilst others had gone to America and to England to continue their studies and were doing well. One of them holds a strong position in the Government in Peking; another returned the other day to Hongkong after having taken his degree of B.Sc. in the London University in chemistry, and they would have the pleasure of listening to an address from him very shortly. There were others who were doing well in the Hongkong University and doing credit to their old College. As he looked back over those eleven years he felt that a good portion of his life had been associated with St. Stephen's College. During the last five years he had had other work besides attending to St. Stephen's College. He was a member of the Church Missionary Society, who sent missionaries to nearly every part of the world. He was now the Society's Secretary in South China and had a good deal of work to do in that connection. The combined work, however, was more than one man could do, and if it had not been for the masters, who had taken a real interest in the welfare of the College, it would have been impossible for the College to continue as it had. He felt that the Warden of the College ought to give his whole time to that work. The education of young men was a most important thing, and if one intended to look after the education of young men properly he must have his whole time and give his undivided attention to it. For the last two years he had been trying to do his best, but with other calls so pressing he had not had the time and strength to give to the work of the College, and so, for the last twelve months, he had been feeling he could not do these two great works, taking charge of the College and also acting as Secretary for the Church Missionary Society. Last year, the Archdeacon said, he wrote home to the heads of the C.M.S. resigning both positions, intimating that he was quite willing to continue in one or other of these two offices should they so desire. They had replied regretting the news and saying that someone had better be appointed Warden. On receipt of that letter he called together the College Council, which has Chinese gentlemen upon it as well as English, and asked them to consider what was best to be done and whom they would like to succeed him. They decided to nominate the Rev. A. D. Stewart (at present of St. Paul's College) to be Warden. The wish of the Council was placed before the C.M.S. Committee and they approved, so that Mr. Stewart would be their new Warden.

"It will be very hard for me," said the Archdeacon, "to break away from St. Stephen's, but if I felt I could do my duty to you by remaining Warden I should certainly do so." In obtaining the services of Mr. Stewart he was sure they all felt they were getting a very good man, and he was certain that when he came he would receive a very warm welcome from them all. As Mr. Stewart was leaving St. Paul's College it would mean a vacancy there also, and to his post the Rev. C. B. Shann (Capiain of St. Stephen's College) had been appointed. These changes would not take place immediately, because work had been set for forthcoming examinations and it would not be fair to students to upset their class work. The Archdeacon said he had taken the first opportunity of telling them the news, and urged the boys to make the last 10 terms he would be with them as Warden the best he had ever known.

CHINA'S DEBTS AND NEW YEAR.

PEKING, January 29th.

The Government has succeeded in tidying over the financial difficulties of the China New Year by means of the advance of $1,000,000 from the Quintuple Group secured on the Salt Gabelle and by the payment of advances by the Banque Industrielle and other small lenders.

REVOLUTION CLAIMS AND THE HAGUE.

It is pointed out in connection with the revolutionary claims that $2,000,000 was set aside from the Quintuple Loan to meet all foreign claims, and on this China is paying interest at five per cent. It is also understood that China pays interest possibly as high as seven per cent. on all admitted claims from the date when the damage was sustained. The foreign claims, as submitted, considerably exceed $3,000,000 and China is urging that the matter should be referred to The Hague.

PROVINCIAL PAYMENTS.

The Provinces of Chihli and Hupeh have promised to remit $400,000 to the Central Government.—Reuter.

WORSHIP OF HEAVEN AND CONFUCIUS.

We take the following interesting report from the Peking Daily News of the 16th ult.

"The Examination Committee of the Administrative Conference on the Bill relating to the Worship of Heaven and Confucius held a meeting on the afternoon of Saturday last in the Building of the Administrative Conference. It was decided that the place for the worship of Heaven should be the Temple of Heaven, and that the date should be the Winter Solstice. The article to be used at the sacrifice is a bullock, and the ceremony of howan will be adopted. As to the dresses which the President would wear, it was decided that the matter should be left to the Master of Ceremonies of the President's Office. Some suggested that during the sacrifice Heaven should be represented by a man in the attire of the Hwangti or the Emperor. Over this question there was hot debate. The opponents argued that the Hwangti was the ancestor of the Han race, and that if the Emperor of the Han symbolized Heaven, the people in Mongolia, Manchuria, Tibet and Mohammedans would become dissatisfied because their ancestors were not used to represent Heaven. A Mongolian member, taking advantage of this turn of argument, proposed that Genghis Khan should represent Heaven. Another member proposed that Confucius should represent Heaven. For fear that the feeling of the five races might be injured, the members of the Conference decided to drop the question. But the worship of Heaven was approved by all of them. Two persons were elected to draw a report to be submitted to the next meeting of the Examination Committee. As to the place for the worship of Confucius, it was decided that the place should be the Temple of Literature, and that the date should be the first day of Ting during the Spring and the Autumn, and that the ceremonies should be the same as the worship of Heaven. Two persons were elected to draw a report to be submitted to the next meeting for further discussion.

"QUO VADIS?"

JAPAN'S NAVAL EXPANSION.

What is Japan's ambition as indicated by the naval programme embodied in her Draft Budget? asks the Japan Gazette. As the Ally of Great Britain, the maintenance of a navy is due, but not surely at a sacrifice. Yet besides the ordinary and extraordinary expenditure, totalling ¥100,700,420, it is proposed to sanction a construction programme for four Super-Dreadnoughts and twenty torpedo-boat destroyers at a cost of ¥160,000,000, to be defrayed in seven years beginning with last year as follows:—

1913	Y 6,000,000
1914	10,000,000
1915	10,000,000
1916	30,000,000
1917	34,000,000
1918	40,000,000
1919	30,000,000

With the naval programmes now in force, the construction appropriations for the next three years will be:—

1914	Y48,773,443
1915	38,662,608
1916	35,000,000

For 1914, of course, must be added the ordinary and extraordinary expenditure already referred to, bringing this year's naval appropriation to nearly ¥150,000,000 in a total Budget of something less than ¥650,000,000.

THE CHINA SQUADRON.

The following appointments have been made at the Admiralty:—

Commander W. A. Egerton to the Minotaur, additional, as flag commander to Vice-Admiral Sir T. H. M. Jerram, reappointed on promotion.

Lieutenants F. G. Jukes Hughes to the Minotaur (1st and 2nd); and C. A. Poignand to the Triumph for the Colum, in command, to date January 1st.

Engineer Lieutenants E. W. Allen to the Doris for voyage out to China, to date January 15th, and to the Widgen, on re-commissioning, undated; and D. Pearson to the Doris for voyage out to China, to date January 15th, and to the Nevesville on arrival, undated.

The Renown, battleship (built in 1895 at a cost of £746,247), Flora, light cruiser, and the t.b.d.s. Foam, Whiting, Frango, and Taku have been transferred to the sale list. The Flora was launched at Portsmouth in November, 1893, and recently returned to England from the China Station; the Foam was built by Messrs. Thornycroft, and recently returned to England from the Mediterranean; the Whiting, Frango, and Taku have been for some years past on the China Station, on which they are substituted by destroyers transferred from the Mediterranean to the Chinese Navy, and was captured when the Taku forts were taken at the time of the Boxer rebellion.

THE PANAMA CANAL ROUTE.

A CONDITIONAL SUBSIDY FOR JAPANESE STEAMERS.

Raw cotton and iron imported into Japan from America, and hemp braids, porcelain and lacquer were exported to America from Japan, together with other cheap goods, remarks the Asahi, have hitherto been sent via Suez, or forwarded by rail from points on the Pacific coast. When the Panama Canal is opened, the new sea route to New York will be extensively used, as it will save much time as compared with the route via Suez, and also save freight in comparison with the railroad charges. For this reason, adds the Osaka Journal, the Government has decided to grant a subsidy to a new service to be opened to New York via the Panama Canal, if the subsidies now granted to the American services are reduced. A Bill for this purpose will be introduced to the Diet during the present session.

THE FORTHCOMING RACE MEETING.

TRAINING NOTES.

TUESDAY, February 3rd.
Mr. J. Heard, Mr. John Peel's first whip, arrived from Tientsin last night and was on the Race Course at daybreak to-day. His first mounts were:—The Fickle Bird, Annan and Lockerie, all three being exercised over fast quarters only. In Annan he has a promising winner; this pony's quarter in 28 3/5 is an achievement indicating great possibilities. All Sir Paul Chater's ponies were also given sharp short gallops, none going for more than half a mile. Inside 30 seconds was the time Mr. Soares' Derby couple took to gallop the quarter mile which they were called upon to perform.
Kaochun did 1 mile in 1.42, last quarter
30. All these seem fast times. The course and prevailing wind this morning contributed to rapid last quarters.

Among the auction griffins, Mr.
Brutton's Wincanton is not realising expectations. In contrast, Mr. Gilpin's
Sir Galahad and Mr. Norman's Sir Kwai are gaining in popular estimation with each training gallop.
The attendance to-day was quite up to the average.

GERMAN EMPEROR'S BIRTHDAY.

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION AT SHANGHAI.

Falling in the China New Year holidays, the celebrations of the German community in honour of their Emperor were naturally quieter than on an average, reports the N.C. Daily News, but the solid enthusiasm which invariably characterizes the occasion was present in as great a degree as ever. The torchlight procession marking the eve of his Majesty's birthday brought forth as large a number of torch-bearers as ever, but the fact that so many people were up country and the Chinese carrying on their own festivities behind closed doors, made the scene in the streets far quieter than on previous occasions, when indeed they were at times almost impassable.

Just before nine o'clock the procession was marshalled on the Race Course, and the torch-bearers, armed with their flam-beaux, fell in for the time-honoured march down the Malao. First of all came a guard of mounted Sikhs, then the Town Band, the German Coy. S.V.C., the civilian section of the German community with their friends of other nationalities,
and the rear brought up by bluejackets from the Enden and Otter, with their own band. The procession was under the command of Capt. Mattheus, for although Capt. Schellhaus had returned to Shanghai that day, he was unfortunately indisposed and unable to turn out. Leave-ing the Malao, the procession turned left-handed along the Bund, over the Garden Bridge, and thence to the Con-sulate. Here red lights were burning from several windows, adding a fine picturesque touch, while over the entrance of the Consular residence a crown was worked in electric lights. On the balcony were Dr. Knipping, the Consul-General, with the staff and ladies of the Consulate.
Here for a few minutes the procession halted, while the band struck up the well-known thanksgiving hymn.
The procession now turned back, over the Garden Bridge and to the Club Concordia, on the balcony of which a large crowd had assembled. As it came to a

Let Sanatogen give you Health, Strength & Energy.

Almost everyone is familiar with the action of ordinary tonics—and with the reaction which generally follows.
But Sanatogen is different—its invigorating effects last, and there is no reaction. Sanatogen is simply a scientific health-food, with true tonic properties, and free from dangerous drugs or stimulants.

Give Sanatogen a Trial.

That is why so many experienced Europeans in the East are Sanatogen-users, and why you should give it a trial.
You will bear the heat better, you will feel calmer and more cheerful, your appetite and digestion will improve,
and you will sleep better and work with more energy.
Moreover, you will be much less liable to catch Dysentery,
Stomach and Bowel Complaints, and other diseases.
Buy a bottle of Sanatogen at the nearest Chemist's, and write, mentioning this paper, for a Free Copy of "The Art of Living."

Sir Gilbert Parker, the popular novelist, writes: "I have used Sanatogen with extraordinary benefit. It is a true food tonic, feeding the nerves, increasing the energy, and giving fresh vigour to the overworked body and mind."

Mr. Henry Arthur Jones, the famous dramatist, writes: "Sanatogen seems to me a very valuable nerve tonic food. I have several times taken it when run down and always with excellent results."

Sir H. Hesketh Bell, K.C.M.G., writes: "For a man doing hard mental work in an enervating climate, there is, according to my experience, no better invigorator than Sanatogen."

halt the national anthem was played.
On the steps of the Club were Mr. E. C.
Pearce, Civil Commandant of the Volunteer Corps, Mr. H. Figge, Lieut.-Colonel Bray and Capt. Canning, to be joined later by Dr. Knipping, Dr. Ney and others of the Consulate. Capt. Mattheus delivered a suitable speech, and Mr.
Pearce and the others then inspected the company.

Addressing the Volunteers Mr. Pearce,
on behalf of the Shanghai Municipality,
congratulated them on their appearance that evening. It was a very great pleasure, he said, to see them there, and in his capacity as their Civil Commandant,
he congratulated both their Commandant and themselves on their turnout on this very festive occasion, the eve of the birthday of their Emperor. Their motto in Shanghai was "Omnia Juncta In Uno," which meant that as they were together collectively, so they all had to pull together. It was very pleasing for him, as an Englishman, to compliment them on the very able manner in which they supported the Council in the very trying times which they went through during July and August. (Hear, hear.) When he saw them in camp last August he felt called upon the Volunteers they had the German Coy., who after all were German soldiers, who knew the business and who knew the game. They were proud of them, more proud than he could say. He called on those present to give three cheers for the German Coy.

These were given with the greatest heartiness, and the men were then dismissed, a bonfire being made on the foreshore with the remains of the torches.

On Tuesday morning the usual reception was held at the German Con-sulate, at which all sections of the community were represented. The ships in harbour dressed for the occasion.
